Senergia Becomes Distribution Partner for Tibber and Reseller of Homevolt

Stockholm, Sweden – May 27

Senergia, the Nordic region's leading specialized wholesaler in sustainable energy, is proud to announce its new partnership with Tibber, the innovative digital electricity provider. Through this partnership, Senergia becomes an official distribution partner for Tibber and will act as a reseller for the smart home battery Homevolt.

Homevolt, developed in collaboration between Tibber and Polarium, is a groundbreaking battery system designed to optimize home energy use. With Homevolt, users can store electricity when prices are low and use it when prices rise, helping to reduce electricity costs and increase energy efficiency. The battery is fully integrated with the Tibber app, allowing users to monitor and control their energy consumption in real time.

“Senergia is excited to partner with Tibber and offer Homevolt to our customers,” says Tim Ljunggren, CTO at Senergia. “This partnership strengthens our position as a leader in sustainable energy and enables us to offer innovative solutions that help our customers reduce their energy costs and climate footprint.”

Tibber, known for its commitment to providing smart and sustainable energy solutions, sees Senergia as a strategic partner to reach more customers in the Nordics. “We are pleased to have Senergia as our distribution partner,” says Daniel Lindén, co-founder of Tibber.

This partnership marks an important step in Senergia's strategy to expand its product portfolio and offer customers the most advanced solutions in solar energy and energy storage. Homevolt will be available through Senergia's network of resellers and installers in Sweden.
